

THE NEW NORTH.

VOLUME 11. NO. 29.

RHINELANDER, WISCONSIN, THURSDAY, AUG 24, 1893.

TERMS—$1.50 IN ADVANCE

TERSELY TOLD TALES.

Langdon, the grocer, wants to see you.

The county board was in session last evening.

E. M. Kemp left Monday on a business trip south.

L. S. Kearney is entertaining a sister from Chicago.

Willis Jewell was at Eagle River Tuesday on business.

F. S. Robbins is at home during the idle spell of his Michigan mill.

B. W. Quigley has gone to his home in Ann Arbor, Mich., for a week's visit.

The Ironwood News-Record is crying for roads and farms in Gogebic county.

Al. Wismer has sold his horse, Monday, to C. H. Ogden, of Minocqua, for $250.

Ben. Smith has about five miles of the Woodboro-Rhineland road completed.

Mrs. W. F. Ball and son Roy have gone to the World's fair for a stay of several weeks.

W. E. Kelley, of Chicago, was here Saturday, looking after some business interests.

C. Eby and wife left for Wausau yesterday, where Chris. takes a degree in Missouri.

Rooms can be rented in the New North building by applying at C. H. Naylor's barber shop.

D. S. Johnson returned Sunday morning from a visit to his father and brother at Appleton.

Four pug puppies for sale, 3 months old. Inquire of Mrs. Trombley, North side, near Briggs' store.

Thos. Hagan's new residence on King street is going to be one of the best looking houses in the city.

It is said that one of the noted Taylors has returned to the county and is about his old haunts near Woodboro.

Sam. Bronson, one of Minocqua's merchants, was here Saturday, on his way to southern Wisconsin for a week's visit.

Hard times may come, but people will never buy goods any cheaper than they can now for cash at Langdon's.

Leave your orders for meat with the Minneapolis Stock Yards & Packing company. Prompt delivery and honest treatment is their motto.

Sam. S. Miller left for Milwaukee, Monday, accompanied by his little daughter, who will remain there a few weeks, under an ear specialist's care.

Lytle & Hardie will do lathing or shingling on short notice. Old roofs re-shingled. Leave word at Greeny's. Mail orders attended promptly. ml-6m

The Minneapolis Stock Yards & Packing company always carry fresh meats in their market. They receive them every day direct from the packing house.

In order to make room for our fall stock of goods, we will sell refrigerators at cost, and gasoline stoves below cost.

CLARK & LENNON.

Mrs. John Morrison gave a reception to a number of friends last Friday afternoon.

Fred. Clausen, the pitcher who was with Rhineland two years ago, will finish the season with the Chicagoos.

Clark & Lennon are ready to make prices that sell on everything that is needed in the line of builders hardware.

Mrs. F. L. Hinman entertained a number of friends at her handsome home on Oneida avenue, last Friday afternoon.

Did you ever try to see how much soap—good soap—you can get at Langdon's for a quarter. Try it sometime.

C. L. Wellington and party of friends from Milwaukee, spent last week at Ted. Tripp's resort. They had great luck with the fishline.

Mrs. E. O. Brown gave a party to a number of young people last Friday evening, in honor of her guest, Miss Lay, of Washington, D. C.

Congress may legislate the country into better times, but they can't legislate prices down any lower than Langdon has them on groceries.

Chief of Police Tony Wright was down from Eagle River, Monday, looking for the stolen boy, who is supposed to have been with the Gypsy band.

C. C. Yawkey, of Hazelhurst, and W. C. Yawkey, of Detroit, left last week for the Mesabi iron range, to look over their property interests there.

William Crockett returned from Virginia, Minn., Saturday, for a brief visit home. He reports times as pretty dull there, but says that some building is being done.

If that handsome looking lady, dressed in a light colored suit, who passed by the postoffice yesterday will call at Langdon's, she will find some bargains for cash in groceries.

The Congregational Church society is going to have an excellent choir. They have secured Professor Bailey's services to lead with the violin, and a number of instruments will be engaged.

As usual, Rhineland leads the whole crowd of towns in this section in the building line. Despite the hard times everywhere, a dozen new store buildings and fifty residences are now being built.

Efforts are being made to bring off a boxing match of a limited number of rounds here between George La Blanche, the "Marine," and William Daniels. It will take place, if at all, next month.

On the way to Junbo Park, there are two or three places in the road which should be fixed at once to prevent danger of a serious accident, which would likely cost the town considerable.

A party of young people, consisting of Messrs. Kearney, Lytle, Redfield, and Dix and the Misses Ella Dunn, Nellie Redfield, May Kearney and Josie Maher spent the week camping at Tomahawk lake.

Clark & Lennon offer their large stock of refrigerators and gasoline stoves at greatly reduced prices, in order to make room for fall goods. These are bargains the people will not get again soon.

Local insurance agents and Fire Commissioner McDermott have been "poking up" people who have left rubbish in the rear of their business. Fire is too dangerous to allow of any chance that can be avoided.

The Eagle River Democrat's account of the horse race here two weeks ago was very good, but, like many good things, it came too quick. The publication of such an article since the race between Muggins and Dan would be funnier than it was before.

F. D. Francis, manager of the Rockford Furniture Journal, and Robert Anderson, of the Chicago Gas Light & Coke company, are in the city. They embarked on a fishing trip the first of the week, returning Wednesday with a big catch, three 20-pound muskallonge being in the lot.

Mr. J. C. Boswell, one of the best known and most respected citizens of Brownwood, Texas, suffered with diarrhea for a long time and tried many different remedies without benefit, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy was used; that relieved him at once. For sale at the Palace Drug Store.

J. O. Thayer was in the city yesterday.

Will Carr's new home on the South Side is nearly completed.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ogden, of Minocqua, were in the city Tuesday.

The social dance given by the Modern Woodmen Tuesday evening was attended by about thirty couple, all of whom had a pleasant time.

M. Langdon wants everyone who is indebted to him to call and settle within the next thirty days or he will publish the accounts for sale.

Herman E. Gerlach, who has been employed as dry goods clerk in Irvin Gray's store for the past six months, left for his home at Weyauwega last week.

The excellent article on the subject of a conference between labor and capital, which appears on the fifth page of The New North was taken from The Chicago Inter Ocean.

Harry Wiegand, E. M. Kemp and Hugh McLean formed a fishing party at Sander's resort last week which captured more big ones than any such crowd has reported this year. Four big "muskies" were landed.

The Union band given social dance in the Grand Opera House to-morrow evening. The boys have bought their own instruments and are giving their dance to raise money for uniforms. The tickets are one dollar each.

L. Lawson and daughter, of Canterbury Station, New Brunswick, arrived in town Sunday morning for a visit with his sons here. Mr. Lawson thinks so well of the place that he is likely to remain here permanently.

Frank Brouette and Mrs. Whitman were arrested Tuesday by Sheriff Brazell on a warrant sworn out by the woman's husband charging them with living together as man and wife. They are in the county jail awaiting examination.

Clothing Sales Agent wanted for Rhineland and vicinity. Liberal commissions paid, and we furnish the best and most complete outfit ever provided by any house. Write at once for terms. Send references.

WYAMAKER & BROWN, Philadelphia, Pa.

The fate of the stone crusher hangs in the balance. By a vote of 2 to 1 the town board voted not to accept it and ordered it returned to the depot for shipment back to its starting point. Now the crusher company will probably try to make the town take it.

If our readers, after perusing the town board proceedings, think that the New North has failed to get all of the last session, they mustn't blame us. In order to have any of the proceedings appear, they must be spread upon the minute book. No where else will do.

The Schubert Symphony Club and Lady Quartette gave two very pleasing performances Friday and Saturday evening, at the Grand.

They give a neat, clean show, which lovers of good music are thoroughly well pleased with and which suits the average theater goer. The work of little Tommy Purcell was much admired.

Miss A. E. Delehanty, an experienced stenographer, is ready to give instruction in shorthand and the use of a typewriter. She will teach either classes or separately, as the student desires. The terms for instruction are reasonable, and will be made known on application to Miss Delehanty, at the office of Hammond, Standish & Co., on Davenport street.

A typical band of Gypsies, twenty in number, were camped in town this week. They had the usual complement of horse trading stock, and, as an additional attraction, exhibited a couple of trained bears and some monkeys. They were critically examined by a good many people.

They were a hard looking outfit and plainly showed the effects of travel on the rough roads of this country.

A tough character recently opened a house of ill-repute at Tomahawk Lake village and run it in such a manner that the people of the village wanted him and his companions driven out. Sheriff Brazell went up there Friday and brought the whole outfit before Justice Nicholds where the girls plead guilty to being inmates and paid their fines. The man was bound over to the next term of circuit court, and will stay in jail awaiting trial.

The double band mill of the North Wisconsin Lumber Company, at Hayward, made the biggest cut on record Tuesday. They were cutting one and two inch stuff and turned out 300,410 feet.

On Aug. 22, Sept. 10 and Oct. 10, 1893, the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western Railway will have harvest excursion tickets on sale at reduced rates for points in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and New Mexico. For further information, apply to

H. C. BRÄGER, Agent.

Thos. Stevenson, who formerly lived in Rhineland, and in the early days of the town, built many of its buildings, made an attempt to take his own life last Thursday. He has been drinking heavily of late, and his mind was undoubtedly unbalanced. He stabbed himself several times and was found in the woods without clothes, near Woodruff. None of his wounds were fatal and he is now recovering.

A small crowd went to the ball grounds, Sunday, to see the Columbian, Rhineland's second nine, play the Eagle River Juniors. There were no go were rewarded by seeing a hot game, in which the playing was as even as could be desired. Neitherside did much batting or scoring until the last inning, when both sides run in four tallies. The game ended 7 to 8 in the Columbian's favor.

The sheriff from Spencer, Ia., was here Monday, to recover a little boy who was stolen from his home in Iowa last May by a band of Gypsies. Accompanied by Sheriff Brazell, he visited the camp of some of the nomadic tribe here Monday and took the little boy who came nearest answering the description. An examination showed he was not the right lad, and the Gypsy mother's sobs were quieted by the return of the little fellow. It may be that he was in the camp, but he could not be found and the sheriff returned to town empty handed.

Saturday and Sunday local lovers of base ball will see what ought to be the best games of the season. The home team will play against a combination of talent from Bessemer, Ironwood and Hurley. They will be the strongest club that has been here this year, and are coming to win both games if possible. Jake Morrey and Donahue will be the battery for the home team. Realizing that there are a great many people in Rhineland who admire base ball but do not care to attend Sunday games, the club has arranged to have game Saturday as well as Sunday. Play will begin promptly at 3:30.

We will ship you a very fine nickel 3-inch electric door bell, with push button; fifty feet of best insulated wire, Excelsior Battery that has to be recharged only once a year at a cost of 5 cents. Everything complete in box ready for shipment, with directions for putting in. Every house needs one of those bells. You can place bell in kitchen or any room in house. You push the button at front door, we do the rest. Price only $3.00 We also carry a full line of electric motors to run fans, sewing machines, etc., etc. Address,

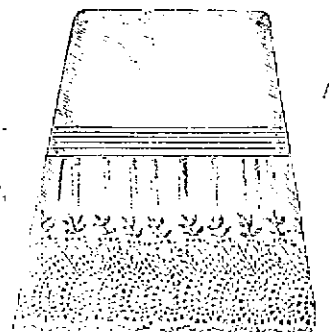

P. A. LOMBARD & Co., Pioneer Block, Madison, Wis.

Sheriff Max Sells, of Eagle River, was here Monday, on his way to Minocqua, to arrest some parties accused of robbing a man there last week. The story of the case is sad. We give it as we hear it, and rely upon the evidence which will be produced in court to prove that it is correct. A citizen of Rhineland visited Minocqua for gain. He boarded the lion in his den and mastered him. In other words, he stood before the crap table bare handed and threw the bones until he was something like $300 ahead. That's considerable money these times, and the people who lost thought that, owing to the stringency of the financial market, they could hardly afford to have that amount leave the confines of the town. They were sociable with him and invited him to walk with them through the vales and dales that border the handsoonest lakes in the world. He went, and no one can tell what took place during the next half hour unless it is brought out on cross-examination. One fact is undisputed. He quit the promenade penniless, and naturally has a suspicion that his companions were gainers in the ratio of his loss. He swore out a warrant for the arrest of his entertainers, and when the case comes up before an Eagle River justice, the world will know more than it did before about protection of home industries and swift recuperation after loss.

A COURT OF NATIONS.

A HIGH COURT OF LAST RESORT TO DETERMINE DISPUTES.

How International Differences Might Be Adjusted if the Rulers Did Not Prefer Grim and Destructive War to Peace Arbitration in Big Affairs.

There is a great deal of carelessness in certain popular demands for refereeing questions between nations to arbitration. We all know what arbitration is in business. It is a very convenient way of adjusting certain questions which arise between two friends, each of whom wants to do what is right, but who take different points of view of the same subject. Each of them "chooses a man," as the old New England phrase has it, as the two "men" choose a third man. All parties meet together and talk over the matter, and the court thus made decides. But for practical purposes we do not compel every person who has a question arising with another person to create a court which is to try that question. If a policeman catches a pickpocket in the street, he does not appoint one person to try the pickpocket and ask the pickpocket to appoint another, while these two shall appoint a third. If Mr. Cheeryble in London is not satisfied with the account which Mr. Goodchild in Kansas City sends him, if Mr. Goodchild cannot make Mr. Cheeryble understand that account, they do not appoint a court which shall determine how much is due and how much is not due. There is a court existing to which that question can be referred and there are processes perfectly understood by which that court can decide it.

This is a fair enough illustration of the necessity which now exists that the great nations of the world shall have a permanent tribunal, before which shall be brought the important questions which must arise in the affairs of nations with each other. It is to be a permanent tribunal. There is not to be one tribunal about roads and another tribunal about boundaries and another about extradition. There is to be a tribunal which shall gradually gain the confidence of the whole world, and which shall decide these questions which have been left hitherto to a vague public opinion and to what is called the arbitration of war. Clearly we are approaching nearer and nearer the creation of such a tribunal.

The greatest success was achieved when in 1913 13 different nations, here on the coast of the Atlantic, united to gether and established the permanent court of the United States. The thing has worked so perfectly and simply ever since that we have many readers to whom it has never occurred that there were might have been wars between Massachusetts and New York, or war between Missouri and Iowa, or bitter and severe as half the wars of the middle ages in Europe were. There might have been such wars if it had not been that the supreme court of the United States has determined at least a hundred questions arising between different proud and independent states and has so determined them that each of the states has acquiesced in the decision. Nay, it has so determined them that half the citizens of these states did not know that any such questions existed. Between my own state of Massachusetts and the state of Rhode Island there was a question about boundaries some 40 or 50 years ago which was more important than many of the questions which have thrown European states into war with each other. The supreme court of the United States determined the question, and I do not believe that half the people now living in Massachusetts who were living then ever knew that there was any such question at issue.

The six great powers of the world are the powers who should agree on such a high court of judicature, to exist as a permanent tribunal. It would be easy to arrange some system by which its judges should be appointed. Perhaps a good system would be such as is indicated in the custom which has been spoken of above. Each of the six nations might name one of these judges, and the six judges might nominate six other judges, to be approved by a majority of the high powers forming the court.

At first the new court would have nothing to do. Everybody would be busy of it, but it would exist. It would consist of men of the very highest rank who had distinguished themselves before the world by their equity and wisdom. At first the court would meet simply for its own organization and to avoid the reference to it of questions arising between great nations. In this period of leisure these jurists might well be engaged in digesting the international law of the world as it exists now and publishing from time to time their digest. They might determine certain principles on which they would rely in the judgments which should eventually be brought before them. Before long, however, some real question would be submitted to them. There would arise a question whether the San Carlos river was a dirty brook running from the northwest to the southeast, or whether a dirty brook running from the southwest to the northeast. As the standard now, two armies have to be called out to fight about the proper definition of some old treaty, and a thousand good fellows have to be killed before we can determine which of two dirty brooks is the San Carlos. —Edward Everett Hale in New York Recorder.

LEADERS AND RULERS.

Now Some Common Names and Titles Claimed to Be Applied.

There are heaps of history in titles. For instance, take that of the "prince of Wales." This title is always given to the eldest son of the ruler reigning over England, and it came in this way:

Wales is now part of the kingdom of Great Britain, as Ireland and Scotland are. But once for a long time Wales was a separate kingdom. At last the English conquered it, and then after that there were always plots and rebellions among the Welsh people. By and by an English king went with his queen into Wales to see if the Welsh were ill treated, and if they were to try to make things easier and pleasanter for them. The Welsh nobles and leaders all came together to meet their English king and to complain to him.

But the king gave them no chance to speak. He rose and told them he had heard they wanted a prince of their own, and that he meant to give them one—a born Welshman and speaking no other language.

Then, as the Welsh joyfully cheered as loud as they could, he fetched out his baby son, born the night before in the Welsh castle, and of course the baby could "speak no other language," as he was not able to speak at all. Ever since the eldest son of the English royal family has been called the "prince of Wales." That ruler deserved his own title "king," for "king" is a word that comes from "kneing," which means a "wise" or "knowing man." I suppose the first rulers—the heads or kings of small tribes—came to be so by "knowing more," by being "wiser," than the other men of the tribe.

"Czar" and "kaiser" both came from the Latin word "caesar," the title of the great conquering Roman rulers, whose only law was their own will.

The czar of Russia and the young Kaiser William of Germany have much more power over their subjects than the queen of England has over the people of England. "Sultan" is another such title, and it comes from an Arabic word, which means "absolute lord."

Crozier Cleveland's title, "president," means one appointed to sit before or over others. It comes from the two Latin words "pre," which means "before," and "sideo," which means "to sit." The title shows that the president's business is to sit before or above the law-makers and carry out and execute the laws they frame. This is why the president is sometimes called the "chief executive."

"Captain" means "head man," it comes from the word "caput," which means "the head." "Colonel" comes from the same Latin root word as "column," and the title no doubt rose from the regimental practice of marching or attacking in column, with their commander at the head.

As to the two titles "democrat" and "republican," when a small boy hears them he generally thinks of one or the other of those political parties as the people who are not of his father's way of thinking. It will do him no harm to know exactly what each of these party titles really means.

"Democrat" comes from the Greek word "demos," which means "the people," and from "kratos," which means "power." So a "democrat" is one who believes in the power or sovereignty of the people, each acting as nearly as may be for himself.

Self Mediation as a Science.

Imagination has too much to do with a man's practice on himself. One who reads the little textbook on physiology in the schools will immediately discern in every rumble of his intestines the kind of action the gastric juices are taking on the food that has gone into the stomach, and he soon becomes, if he pushes his investigation further, a monomaniac on hygiene. It is true that a man or woman who has arrived at the age of 40 years ought to be able to decide at a glance the kind of food suited best to their digestive organs, and experience ought to teach them never to touch any food that disagrees with them. This is true also of drinking. When a man is 40 years of age, he ought to understand himself sufficiently to guard against all imprudences in either eating or drinking or working, but that is about all he ought to know about it. He expects to be employed as an expert on others in his own line of study, and he ought to be willing to reciprocate by employing a physician when he is sick. —Austin Statesman.

A Large Cross in an English Church.

The largest cross in any church in this country is the "Great Cross," which the Duke of Newcastle presented to the Church of St. Albans, Holborn. It is an enormous crucifix, the cross of which is over 25 feet in height, and hangs suspended from the chancel arch. The cross itself is colored dead olive green, and the arms have terminals of flower-de-luce and Tudor roses. The sacred figure is painted and gilt, while on either side stand presentations of St. John the Divine and the Virgin as "the Mater Dolorosa." The idea of the work has been chiefly borrowed from the road crosses to be seen still at St. Peter's, Leovain, and at Oplinter in Brabant. —London Tit-Bits.

In Kentucky Jurors Must Be Able to Read.

Circuit Judge Green in a murder trial at Williamstown decided that not being able to read disqualified a person from sitting on a jury. It is the first time the question has been raised we believe. Section 225 of the criminal code provides: "The court shall, on motion of either party, and before argument to the jury, instruct the jury on the law applicable to the case, which shall always be given in writing." Congressman Dickerson made the point that each juror should be able to read the instructions himself, and if he could not do this he was disqualified. The judge sustained the objection. —Greenup (Ky.) Gazette.

A Sensitive Patient.

Dr. Emdee—Feet go to sleep. That shows your circulation is bad. Editor Daily Kuzoo—That's all you quacks know. I suppose if my corns ached that would show that the advertising patronage was falling off. —New York Herald.

In Mrs. Bismarck's House.

The Princess Bismarck conducts her house on the most delightful free and easy plan. Breakfast is served at all hours in the morning, each member of the family and each guest appearing only when ready. Dinner is supposed to be served at 8:30 o'clock, but it is generally 4 o'clock before the party is gathered around the board. Then they have coffee, and about 8 o'clock a promiscuous supper is served. —Philadelphia Press.

Why Will They Do It?

A Massachusetts minister pathetically said to a newspaper man the other day, "Why don't some of you reporters get up an article on 'Why women stand at the door (especially the screen door in fly time) for the last words after they have taken five minutes to half an hour indoors to say goodbye?' The poor man has suffered, as his wife admitted at the time, and spends half his leisure in summer fighting flies.

Notice.

Having disposed of my millinery store, all parties indebted to me, are requested to call at store this week and settle. If not, I shall have to call on them Saturday afternoon as all accounts must be settled by that time. 2w Mrs. E. P. BRENNAN.

Mr. Thomas Battle, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for the flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Palace Drug Store.

Land For Sale.

By Order of the Court, JAS. W. MCCORMICK, County Judge.

The success of Mrs. Annie M. Beam, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in Johnstown, Pa., after the great flood, on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with us, two of whom took the diarrhoea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. It cured both of them. I knew of several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be over-estimated and cheerfully recommend it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at the Palace Drug Store.

Bargains in Real Estate.

Leonard Horr has a number of houses for sale which can be bought at reasonable prices and on easy terms. One of them is a 9-room house, and new. This is a good chance for anyone to secure a home easily. tf *

Editorial Notes.

The great Ninth congressional district of Wisconsin bows low to Speaker Crisp. He has appointed Hon. Thomas Lynch, its representative, to a place on the committee on mileage! Under the circumstances, Crisp has done well.

Prosperity will be turned out by the wind, all will soon be well. At least, that is the outlook now.

A good many people think times are pretty hard in this part of the country. But the situation here is one of enviable prosperity compared to the condition of things in Denver and other Colorado cities, where even the richest families are in straits to get money to purchase food. It is nearly as bad in Montana. It is worse, if possible, in the new cities of the Pacific coast. In Tacoma, for example, business is almost suspended, and money is so scarce that they are even talking of closing the schools.

Time has proven that democracy was in earnest when it promised to overthrow the trusts. None of them are heard of. It is distrust that has taken possession of the country since democracy came into power.

Does the railroad man now think that the democratic promise of a favorable co-employee bill and the loud call for a brotherly rebuke to John C. Spooner for doing his duty as a railway attorney, fully offset the 10 to 20 per cent. reduction in his wages?

It is the same old party. During the war its representatives voted solidly against issuing the greenbacks. After the war, when greenbacks were no longer essential but mischievous, it became the dear old friend of the greenback. So, three years ago, its representatives voted solidly against the Sherman law. Now, when it is found that the operation of that law is becoming detrimental to the country, they kick like fractious mules against its repeal.—Sentinel.

Returns from the last fall's elections are now coming in quite fast. A dozen factories are shutting up daily.

A Conference of Labor and Capital.

The proposition for a conference of businessmen and wage-earners comes in good time and with good judgment. So thorough is the union of the social body that no one part can suffer without injury to every other part. When capital is uneasy, labor is depressed; when labor is depressed, the stores are half empty and the mills and factories but half, or less than half, productive.

A few months ago, all of us were better off than we now are; sellers and manufacturers of goods were getting rid of more goods, railways were carrying more freight, farmers were getting better prices for grain and wool, and there was a much greater demand for skilled and unskilled labor than there now is. The present hard times are hard times for all; but they teach us that good times are not only good times for the employer, but for the employed also, and if they teach us to turn deaf ears to raw theorists who preach an antique English gospel to Americans, and if they teach us the wisdom of saving a little in times of prosperity, they will not have been without their use.

But the object of the proposed conference is not to inquire as to the cause of the present adversity, or to prescribe a rule of action for the better times that must come when the silver and the tariff questions have been settled, but to devise some scheme of amelioration of the condition of the unemployed. The first thing to be done is to gain a knowledge of the number of the unemployed, exclusive of the dissolute idle and of the professional agitators and bleeders of labor. This being done, the question of means of employment comes next. These seem to be of four kinds.

1. Employment in the public parks, and especially in the West side parks, in which there is much to be done that needs to be done, and to be done quickly, and for the doing of which the commissioners have some $200,000 on hand.
2. Work on the drainage canal. It seems as though new sections of this great work might be opened and completed before winter sets in.
3. Employment of as many men as possible in the work of cleaning streets and alleys.
4. Reduction of hours in factories and mills that are now running full time, so as to give employment to more hands for fewer hours.

Other methods may be suggested at the conference, but these four seem to be practicable.

The thoughtful and patriotic men of the employed and employing classes should come together in the spirit of prudence and humanity and take counsel together. The conference should not be for a display of eloquence, but for an exchange of thought.

Town Board Proceedings.

AUGUST 16, 1893, 7:30 P. M.

Board met pursuant to adjournment. All members present. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved. Petition of J. H. Schroeder and others, asking that D. Cole be appointed treasurer for the town, was read, and on motion said D. Cole was appointed, at a salary of $45 per month.

The following resolution was read and on motion adopted:

Resolved, "That the rock crusher purchased of the Champion Road Machine company, having been fully tried and not being as warranted, be delivered at the station, subject to the orders of the company."

S. G. TUTTLE.

Board took a recess of fifteen minutes. Board called to order by chairman. The following resolution was read and on motion adopted:

"The town board of Pelican, exercising the powers of a village board within the limits of the incorporated village of Rhineland, do ordain as follows:—That, whereas, condemnation proceedings have been had therefor, Mason street in said village be enlarged and extended so that said street shall extend in a direct line across lots 14 and 15 of block 10 of S. H. Albion's addition to said village to Albion street, taking therefor that portion of those lots bounded by a line beginning at the northwest corner of lot 13 in said block and running thence to a point on the west boundary of lot 15 in said block 54.01 feet from the north corner of said lot, thence to the north corner of lot 14, thence to the place of beginning. Ordered that upon the production to the clerk by R. E. Dimick of an abstract showing clear title to said portion of said lot 14, the chairman and clerk are instructed to draw an order to said Dimick for $645, the amount allowed him by the jury. And that upon the production to the clerk by Elmer Phelps of an abstract showing a clear title to said portion of lot 15, the chairman and clerk are instructed to issue her an order for $157.50, being the amount allowed her by the jury. And there is hereby set apart out of any money in the town treasury for the purpose of paying the latter order the sum of $157.50."

S. G. TUTTLE.

On motion, the following bills were allowed and the chairman and clerk instructed to draw orders for the same:

On motion, board adjourned until Sept. 1, 1893, at 7:30 P. M.

WM. W. CARL, Town Clerk.

Sidewalk Notice.

ONEIDA COUNTY, Town of Pelican. We, the undersigned supervisors of the town of Pelican, having upon due petition this day by resolution ordered that sidewalk be constructed in the village of Rhineland, in said town, as follows: Commencing at the intersection of Edgar street and Taylor street, in the village of Rhineland, thence running west along the south side of Edgar street to Mercer street; thence from the intersection of Edgar street and Mercer street north along the west side of Mercer street to High street, sidewalk to be completed on or before the 10th day of September, 1893.

And having duly levied a tax upon each lot or parcel of land fronting or abutting upon said portion of said street to pay the cost of constructing the said sidewalk in front of the said lot or parcel of land.

The following is a description, containing a description of each lot or parcel of land so taxed, the name of the owner thereof if known, and with the amount of the tax as levied upon the same lot or parcel of land set opposite the description thereof:

Death Notices.

Mr. and Mrs. Jule Demars lost their little fourteen months old boy Sunday morning. The funeral services were held Monday.

Mabel, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Giles, died on the 18th inst. of cholera infantum. The remains were taken to Galesville, Wis., for interment.

Henry Heyn's two-year old son died Monday. The body was taken to Clintonville for burial beside that of his mother.

The three-year old boy of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Belle died yesterday morning, of fever.

V. Gault's two-year old son died on the 11th inst.

A Wedding Reception.

Tom Doyle and Miss Mary Slattery were quietly married by Father July last Wednesday morning. They left on the noon train for Grand Rapids, where the bride resided formerly. They returned Tuesday and a number of friends gave them a reception. Congratulations were tendered Tom and his bride, and after dancing was concluded the guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Doyle with the following silver set:

Ten tea, sugar bowl, spoon holder, cream pitcher, syrup cup and saucer, butter dish, custard, cake basket, pickle canister, salt and pepper canister, dozen knives, dozen spoons, dozen forks, table spoons, pair napkin rings, sugar shell, butter knife.

A number of fine presents were also given by friends, and one by Tom's employers, the Pelican Boom Company.

Last Saturday's Races.

Some fine sport was seen at Jumbo Park, Saturday. The races were all good, and the crowd well pleased with the program. Interest, of course, centered in the match race for $50 between T. B. McIndoe's pacer, Dan, and Ed. Brazell's Muggins. The fact that Muggins was not in condition to trot, but lame from striking his quarter, made it a partial disappointment. Dan won every heat and the race with ease. He went much faster than the people expected; but had Muggins been in condition, the victory would have been a great deal harder for him to get.

The 3-minute race between Shafer's pacer and Beers & Lawson's Robinhood was close and exciting, Robinhood taking the first two heats by a narrow margin.

The running race was a good one. The entries were Hilber's and Sam. Cole's horses from town and a pair of bronchos from Eagle River. Hilber's little mare took first place in both heats, with one of the bronchos second.

A half-mile bicycle race was run by a number of local pedal pushers. Charlie Nelson won first place and Fred. Borgness second.

This Solemn Oath.

A popular comedian tells a story of a waiter at a London restaurant who was asked to give a drink. A party of young men determined to reform him, and one day they read to him an imaginary paragraph from a paper relating a terrible accident in which an inebriate in blowing out a candle was killed by the flame igniting the alcoholic fumes of his breath. James pricked up his ears at this and requested that the paragraph might be read to him again, which was done, to the evident horror of the poor man, who immediately went in search of a Bible.

Returning with this, he expressed a desire to take a solemn oath upon it, he motioned the fact that he had been a sorry tippler and was bringing himself to ruin, and then swore that never again so long as he lived would he attempt to blow out a candle.—Million.

A Water Supply Under Every Barn.

Every barn should have a cistern under it, and especially if the barn have a basement for wintering stock. With suitable contrivances a supply of pure water may be provided, so that the water is shut off automatically when the vessel is filled to a certain height. This is done by a wooden valve resting on the water and moved up by it so that the water is shut off whenever it is needed. Such cisterns under barns have often furnished the water promptly so as to save serious losses from fire.—Albany Argus.

A Wise Answer.

The shah once asked a group of courtiers whom they thought the greater man, himself or his father. At first he could get no reply to so dangerous a question, the answer to which might cost the courtiers their heads. At last a wily old courtier said, "Your father, sire, for, though you are equal to your father in all other respects, in this he is superior to you—that he had a greater son than any you have."—Chatterbox.

Astronomy Before Christ.

About 500 B. C. Anaxagoras of Ionia was born. When he "grew up in wisdom," he was the first to teach the cause and cause of both solar and lunar eclipses and to give his followers rules whereby they could distinguish planets from fixed stars. He was punished for declaring that the sun was not a god.—St. Louis Republic.

A New Message.

It was not without meaning that the hills of some swords were put into the metal of the Columbian Liberty bell, which is to ring in the victories of peace and international brotherhood. "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another," is the inscription around its rim.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Terrible Looking Tin.

A well known gentleman of Seattle the other day handed to a reporter a curious looking scarpin, the head of it being of the size of a small marble, such as is used by boys. In color it was a peculiar reddish amber, and seemed to contain a strange lifelike heart, from which a drop of blood appeared ready to fall.

"A heart of freebedreamed with haze," "What is it?" asked the reporter.

"Where was it taken from?" was asked.

"I was at Arica, Peru, in 1892, and took it from a mummy myself," was the reply.

"A number of young men and myself one day were out for sport and dug up a dozen mummies for the sake of seeing what they had been buried with. We found money, pieces of pottery, etc., but did not strike a gold mine. Nearly all the better class of mummies seemed to have these eyes in them, and I took this from one of them. I could not learn what it was. Some people in Peru contend that it is the natural eye preserved and hardened in some manner, while others think it a fish's eye. They do not bother their heads much about it down there, however. The fact that these eyes are found in mummies is sufficient for them. I have never heard of any tradition connected with them."

"I took the eye to a jewelry store in San Francisco and tried to get it polished, but could not, although half a dozen men worked on it. The powder arising from it while they were at work would make them deathly sick and also get in their eyes and blind them temporarily. You see that it has sealed off in places. I finally had it set in this pin as you see it."—Seattle Press-Times.

Where the Boston Hotel's Silver Goes.

The fad of collecting spoons for souvenirs has ramifications little dreamed of by those who toy curiously with the quaint little products of the silversmith's art as they sip out of dainty porcelain the fragrant brew from my lady's tea ball.

Larval boys are faddists as well as their sisters and sweethearts, but they do not seek the uttermost ends of the earth for their treasures. The famous and hospitable hostilities of the neighboring Hub are where they carry on their depredations.

The more thoughtful and honest first make sure that the obliging waiter does not have to replace the missing article, and then they slyly slip a fork or a spoon into a pocket, and no matter what the check may amount to the spoony sophomores are happy, for he has added another to his collection with which to mystify his fair friends.

This accounts for one who at a little spread took tea from an Adams House spoon and salad from a fork bearing the word "Parlier's."

If the student has been industrious, every individual of a party uses silver from a different hostelry.—Boston Herald.

Photographing in Colors.

Color photography has attracted much attention during the past year or 18 months, and the experiments in that line have been startlingly successful. Professors Lippmann and Vogel are the pioneers in this branch of the photographic art, and both are enthusiastic over recent results. Lippmann's investigations have proven that on a layer of albumen he could take brilliant photographs of the spectra, nor was it necessary to bring out the colors one at a time by a laborious application of specially prepared chemicals. On the contrary, they all came out at once, even red, and that, too, without the interposition of colored screens. In a letter to a society of photographers Lippmann says: "Announce the most wonderful discovery of the age. I have brought out colors more brilliant than the tints of the rainbow after an exposure of less than 30 seconds. Alas! I grieve to tell you that there are certain colors in the rainbow that I have not succeeded in chaining to my plate."—St. Louis Republic.

The Atlantic Ocean.

The area of the Atlantic is about 50,000,000 square miles, less than half the area of the Pacific and between one-sixth and one-seventh of the total surface area of the world. It would form a circle 6,180 miles in diameter, which is rather more than double the distance from Liverpool to New York.

Its depth is much better known than that of the Pacific and averages more than 2,000 fathoms, probably about 14,000 feet, or about 23 miles. The height of Mont Blanc is about three miles.

The cubic contents are therefore nearly 80,000,000 cubic miles, so that the Atlantic could be contained bodily in the Pacific nearly three times. The number of cubic feet is 117 followed by 17 ciphers, a number that would be ticked off by our million clocks in 370,000 years. Its weight is 325,000 billion tons, and the number of gallons in it is 73 trillions. A sphere to hold the Atlantic would have to be 535 miles in diameter.—Longman's Magazine.

Entertaining the Butcher.

Little Mary is the daughter of a Presbyterian clergyman in a pretty village of western New York. One morning a corpulent butcher called at the parsonage with a roast of beef for dinner. Mary answered his knock at the kitchen door and proceeded to entertain him until her mother should arrive. The pastor's wife on her way down stairs overheard this conversation:

"This is a very lovely day, Mr. McAsom."

"It is indeed."

"Do you like roast beef?"

"Yes."

"Do you eat it every day?"

"Not every day. Why?"

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars, or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.
B. M. JAYLOR, Leslie, Mich.

DOUGLASS FERRY, N. Y.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for a box of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them straight and although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured. Truly yours, MATTHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45, Pittsford, N. Y.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four months before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly, MRS. HELEN MORRISON, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part. Address all Orders to Mortgage Sale.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of three hundred thirty-nine and 60/100 dollars principal and interest, claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain real estate mortgage, executed by James Longlin, mortgagor, to Daniel McDonald, mortgagee, and bearing date on the 15th day of March, 1903, which said mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds for Oneida County, Wisconsin on the 19th day of March, 1902, in Volume 1 of mortgages on page 378; and the power of sale in said mortgage, bearing hereon, and in action at law or otherwise having been commenced to recover the amount unpaid on said mortgage.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the said power of sale in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the aforesaid mortgage will be foreclosed and the lands and premises therein conveyed and described as follows, viz:

Lot number ten (10) in section number thirty-six (36) of township number thirty-seven (37) north of range number eight (8) east, in the county of Oneida, State of Wisconsin, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, by the sheriff of said county of Oneida, at the front door of the First National Bank in Rhinelander in said county, on the 19th day of August, 1904, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of paying the aforesaid sum due on said mortgage, with the solicitor's charges therein provided and costs of sale.

Dated July 5, 1904.

If You Are Going

To THE WORLD'S FAIR you should begin at once to inform yourself on the subject, so that you may use your time there to the best advantage. You will not be able to see everything—you may see what you are specially interested in if you go there informed at the beginning.

If You Are Not Going

To THE WORLD'S FAIR you should do the next best thing—know as much as possible about it. If you can't see it you can at least read about it.

In either event you imperatively need a daily paper from the World's-Fair city—you need a Chicago daily, and
